APR is a Differentiator

What do 23 PR practitioners in Southeastern Wisconsin have in common that other practitioners don't? They're among the roughly 5,000 PR professionals worldwide who have You've heard the buzzword ESG and probably know it stands for Environmental, Social and Governance, but what does it mean to communicators?

Join us for coffee, conversation, and a panel discussion on April 21 at GRAEF headquarters in Milwaukee (GRAEF was named one of the “coolest offices in Milwaukee” – so check it out!). You'll hear from three expert communicators and learn best practices in communicating ESG to key stakeholders. One of our guest speakers, Susan Ogle was recently published in Forbes with an article about ESG communications.

Coffee networking starts at 7:15 a.m., they also signal professional acumen, significant skills, knowledge and a commitment to ethics.

If you are interested in earning accreditation or learning more about the process, contact chapter officers Ann Knabe, Ph.D., APR+M at Ann.Knabe@bvk.com or Michael Pflughoeft, APR, Fellow at michael.pflughoeft@bvk.com.

Are you offering an internship or seeking an intern for 2023?

Securing an internship or entry level job is one of the main priorities for students. The PRSSA Internship Center is a tool that allows members to explore opportunities across the country in all types of industries. Currently, the number of qualified internship candidates vastly outnumbers the number of internship postings and we would like to change that with your help.

Posting an opportunity on the Internship Center is one of the easiest ways to give back to the future of the public relations industry, especially considering there is no cost for organizations/individuals to post. In addition, PRSSA offers some of the most qualified internship candidates. All you have to do to have your internship featured is send the internship details to prssainternships@prsa.org.

ESG event is sponsored by GRAEF.

with Impact

At a time when so many employees are feeling stretched, disconnected and overwhelmed by the challenges of our new working reality – and businesses wrestle with significant change and cost pressures – communication leaders are looked to for answers.

What can communication leaders do to stay in tune with the needs of the business and be responsive to employees' biggest needs and desires?

As David Grossman has discovered through decades of work with effective leaders – especially during the past two years of uncertainty and social unrest – the key lies in “Heart First” leadership. Heart First leaders who champion empathy, humanity and authenticity in the workplace set themselves apart because they build business results.

In this workshop, Grossman shares the best strategies and tips for Heart First leadership with a special focus on the unique role of communications leaders who wear two hats: one as leaders themselves, and a second managing and influencing a critical and complex set of stakeholders. Both hats are vital to building and protecting the employee experience and the business.

Event will occur from 4-4:30 p.m. with networking and light snacks and then Davids' presentation will run from 4:30-5:30 p.m. at the Newsroom Pub, 137 E. Wells St, Milwaukee, WI 53202.
