Are you offering an internship or seeking an intern for 2023?

Securing an internship or entry level job is one of the main priorities for students. The PRSSA Internship Center is a tool that allows members to explore opportunities across the country in all types of industries. Currently, the number of qualified internship candidates vastly outnumbers the number of internship postings and we would like to change that with your help.

Posting an opportunity on the Internship Center is one of the easiest ways to give back to the future of the public relations industry, especially considering there is no cost for organizations/individuals to post. In addition, PRSSA offers some of the most qualified internship candidates. All you have to do to have your internship featured is send the internship details to prssainternships@prsa.org.

LGBTQ+ Pride Month

"Openness may not completely disarm prejudice, but it's a good place to start." – Jason Collins two years of uncertainty and social unrest – the key lies in “Heart First” leadership. Heart First leaders who champion empathy, humanity and authenticity in the workplace set themselves apart because they build stronger, trusting relationships, which improve engagement, retention, and business results.

In this workshop, Grossman shares the best strategies and tips for Heart First leadership with a special focus on the unique role of communications leaders who wear two hats: one as leaders themselves, and a second managing and influencing a critical and complex set of stakeholders. Both hats are vital to building and protecting the employee experience and the business.
